InterPore | Kimberly-Clark

InterPore–Kimberly-Clark Industrial PhD Research Fellowship

The InterPore–Kimberly-Clark Industrial PhD Research Fellowship is awarded to outstanding doctoral students with the goal of advancing the science and engineering of porous media while fostering long-term collaboration between academia and industry.

Hands-on industrial research experience and global academic recognition

Key Benefits

- Funded three-month research stay at a Kimberly-Clark center in the United States
- US$60 daily stipend, travel and accommodation
- US$1,200 InterPore Annual Meeting travel grant

Nomination Details

PhD supervisors may nominate, or candidates may self-nominate with written supervisor approval.

Nominators must be InterPore members.

Nomination deadline:
30 November 2026

Learn more and nominate!

Visit the website for more information